

Research areas

- Arts & Culture
- Crime & Justice
- Economics
- Education
- Environment & Energy
- Foreign Policy & Security
- Government & Philosophy
- Health
- Social Policy

Media Enquiries

T: (0) 207 340 2650
 F: (0) 207 222 5859

Policy Exchange
 10 Storey's Gate
 Westminster
 London
 SW1P 3AY

Foreign Policy & Security
 Advisory Council

“ Policy Exchange has an admirably non-partisan approach towards educating the public on national security issues. ”
 Lord Carile of Berriew QC

“ ...remarkable... ”
 Lord Guthrie
 Chief of the Defence Staff '97-01

“ a devastating critique of this strategy of Preventing Violent Extremism. ”
 Melanie Phillips
 Daily Mail

“ ...well researched and thought provoking... ”
 Timothy Garton Ash
 The Guardian

- About
- Publications
- Events
- People
- News

Foreign Policy & Security

What we stand for

- Preventing extremism. The Government has all too often been tempted to legitimise and deal with relatively extreme groups at the expense of moderates. This strategy, which aims to engage non-violent extremists is a dangerously short-termist approach - which encourages a milieu in which young people can be progressively radicalised.
- Backing progressives against reactionaries. We argue that the Government must confront those who do not accept the foundations of a liberal society and back moderate groups.

More from Policy Exchange's Foreign Policy & Security Unit:

- Publications
- Events
- People
- News

Dean Godson
 Head of Foreign Policy & Security Unit

click here for more information & contact details

 Choosing our friends wisely
 Criteria for engagement with Muslim groups

 Learning from experience
 Counter Terrorism in the UK since 9/11

 Living Apart Together
 British Muslims and the paradox of multiculturalism

 Confessions of a Hawkish Hack
 The Media and the War on Terror

 When Progressives Treat with Reactionaries
 The British State's flirtation with radical Islamism

 Taming Terrorism
 It's Been Done Before

 Lion Cubs?
 Lessons from Africa's Success Stories

 Regime Change
 It's Been Done Before