

- 8.30 Registration and reception
- 9.00 Morning Session – Chairman’s opening remarks, Professor Paul Wilkinson, Director, Centre for the study of Terrorism and Political Violence
- 9.30 The operational art of Al-qaeda – the lessons of the military manuals. Dr Magnus Ranstorp, CSTPV. Followed by panel and floor discussion
- 10.30 Al-qaeda’s ‘Superbomb’ and its quest for WMD, Mike Boettcher, leading investigative reporter, CNN. Followed by panel and floor discussion
- 11.30 One year on: The nature of the threat the UK response. A Whitehall Official. Followed by panel and floor discussion
- 12.30 Lunch
- 1.30 Afternoon Session – Chairman’s opening remarks, Sir John Wheeler, Chairman of the UK Government Airport Security Review
- 1.40 A review of anti-terrorist policies and measures, Sir John Wheeler. Followed by panel and floor discussion
- 2.30 Intelligence lessons from the front line, Robert Baer, Former CIA Officer and author of ‘See No Evil’. Followed by panel and floor discussion
- 3.30 Afternoon break
- 3.40 Corporate security in the era of new threats. Nigel Churton, C.E.O. Control Risks Group. Followed by panel and floor discussion
- 4.30 Protecting the UK. The government response to September 11th and beyond. Alexander Fraser, Policy lead, Anti-terrorism, Crime and Security Act 2001, Home Office. Followed by panel and floor discussion
- 5.20 Opening Pandora’s box – balancing civil liberties and national security, Professor Paul Wilkinson, CSTPV. Followed by panel, floor discussion and closing remarks
- 6.00 Drinks reception with canapés