Ok Jenny, no problem, can you send me the final version of Richard's presentation (I believe he's about to change one of the slides) , 2 slides to a page please?
Thanks!

Miranda

Apologies - I didn't tell you the whole story yesterday. I tried to do this yesterday and failed (I'm not allowed to pick up the font files). I then called our IT helpdesk - our IT people tell me it is not possible (for whatever reason) & they can't help. Hence the suggestion for pdf files as a patch solution this time round.

For the longer term, I clearly need to talk to IT to look at the best way forward.

Best Regards

Jenny

Hi Jenny

Thanks for your message.

It's very simple to send me the fonts. If you reply to this email, and add attachments: go into Windows/Fonts then pick the required fonts (if the names aren't obvious using this method you can go into windows explorer and find them in the fonts file that way and copy and paste them into an email). Please call me if any of this doesn't make sense.

It really would be best if you can send me the fonts as if for any reason we need to run the presentation on our machine on the day, the words will fall off the page. This also applies for future presentations, and presentations by other members of BNFL.

Best regards

Miranda

Unfortunately, having checked with our IT people, we can't send you the fonts for your computer

What should work is a pdf file from adobe acrobat. Could you let me know how many slides to a page that you would need & I'll arrange for a pdf version of Richard's presentation for you.

Certainly something for us to bear in mind for future presentations!

Regards

Jenny

That's perfect Helen - would both of you be happy for me to print both presentations as handouts anyway?
And can I have your biographies please?
Regarding the tube strike - if it goes ahead, it will start at 6:30pm on Tuesday, so shouldn't cause problems.
Note: please keep acronyms to a minimum and always explain them straight away.
Richard, thanks for the presentation, looks good. Comments:

* Please send me the following fonts by email, as we don't have them so every time you send me a presentation the words fall off the bottom of the slides: ITC Quay Sans Book, ITC Quay Sans Medium, Tech Sans Book, Tech Sans Medium

* Page 3: perhaps better if only Helen uses this slide instead of duplicating information.

* Page 4: Aren't AP1000, ESBWR and ACR all at the same licensing stage at the moment?

* Page 12: Seems to be more-or less repeating page 9 - maybe drop this one?

* Page 15: perhaps go through this very quickly as Helen will have covered this.

* Page 21: Helen's slide maybe better to use as shows cogeneration also.

Hope this makes sense.
Miranda

Miranda:

I've sent out a search party for a higher-quality version of Slide 4. However, this Slide causes problems EVERY TIME - usually because it takes up so much file space. Are we allowed "hand-outs"?

If so, I'd like to propose two: "Slide 4" (assuming I can get a better version); and the attached page of photos illustrating DOE outreach to High Schools on the Hydrogen Fuel Initiative (I'd just mention this in passing, re. Slide 10 reference to "Public Education"). I prepared a short report on this recently for DTI, and sent it to Prof David King, who thought it an interesting approach to consider in the UK - I believe some APPG Members will be interested.

What do you think?

Helen / Richard

Many thanks. Presentation does look good. Here are my comments:

* Slide 4 is not clear resolution-wise. Can you please check it will be ok as it printed out very badly and was not clear on screen either. Good slide though!

* Agree with Richard on slides 6 and 7 - perhaps you could remove some of the technicalities

* Slides 10, 11, 12 - some members may well be interested in hydrogen economy, perhaps more of a broad overview - also perhaps you could combine the bottom half of slide 11 with slide 12 - Yucca Mountain opening and recommendation on second repository is of interest

* Agreed with deletion of slides 15-18, but keep 14, and perhaps 19 as final slide?

Richard:

* did you have any problems with the size of the document? - very slow on my computer but maybe just because I have a decrepit computer.

* Linda asked about the USB key Helen is bringing. Can you check the back of your laptop. If there is a little symbol like this on the back then it should be fine: (I can burn the presentation onto a cd and bring it in just to be sure)

ole0.bmp

* I don't know how much you plan to talk about cost of next generation build, but Baroness Miller of Hendon tabled a question last week, to which part of the reply was as follows, so it may be something which is of interest: "It is not at all clear what the cost will be for the next generation of nuclear power stations, not least because at this stage few have been built."

Can I have updated biographies for both of you please?
